

Declaration of Pecuniary and Non-Pecuniary Interests

All members of Community Liaison Group must sign a declaration of pecuniary and non-pecuniary interests before they join the committee and keep this declaration up to date while they are members on the group. This declaration is designed to protect the integrity of the group and the reputation of its members. Examples of pecuniary interest may include but are not limited to:

- holding shares in an entity proposing or carrying out all or part of a State significant project
- holding a private contract with the proponent
- holding voluntary acquisition or mitigation rights under the proponent's consent
- receiving sitting fees or payments of personal expenses from the proponent
- a member representing a stakeholder group and the stakeholder group has received funding of grants from the proponent.

A pecuniary interest is an interest a person has in a matter because of a reasonable likelihood or expectation of appreciable financial gain or loss to the person. Money does not have to change hands for there to be a pecuniary interest.

A non-pecuniary interest is a private or personal interest a person has that does not amount to a pecuniary interest but that may arise from family or personal relationships, involvement in community, social or other cultural groups that may include an interest of a financial nature.
